FIRE ISLAND

May Be the Scene of a Battle,

Citizens Arm Themselves,

And Prepare to Resist Passengers Landing.

General Porter Orders a Regiment of Soldiers to Be Ready to Start for the Island.

The Situation in the Cholera Infected Districts as Wired by the United Press.

FIRE ISLAND, N. Y., Sept. 13.—5:30 a. m.—Dr. Jenkins arrived here at 4 o'clock this morning by steamer from Babylon. After a conference with Dr. Voight he returned to quarantine. It is expected that a force of police or militia will be here early this morning, probably before noon, and that proceedings will be had by which the injunction can be dissolved. From a talk with Dr. Voight it seems that he expects to land the passengers today. The early morning hours were uneventful and nothing exciting occurred. The day promises to be one of excitement.

The situation remains the same as last night, only a little more quiet. The Cepheus remains anchored in the channel. The passengers are feeling very uncomfortable on account of the chilly southeast wind that is blowing. Food is being supplied for the passengers on the Cepheus from the Surf hotel. Men from the main land are still guarding the dock to prevent the landing of passengers. Seventy-five officers are expected from New York this morning and it is understood another attempt will be made to land. The feeling continues very bitter.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 13.—All was quiet here last night after Dr. Jenkins left. Secretary Seguine was awakened early this morning by the following message:

"BABYLON, 2 a. m.

"Take tug and go to the Stonington and bring bedding, blankets and food to channel off Fire Island, where the Cepheus is anchored.

(Signed) "JENKINS."

Before a start could be made for the lower bay another dispatch came telling him to make no move until further advised by the health officer, who doubtless concluded, in view of the sea running on the shoals of Fire Island, that any attempt to get in during the night would be fruitless.

It was 8:50 this morning when Dr. Jenkins returned from his night's mission looking worn and haggard and the reporters were glad to let him go to breakfast undisturbed. The weather this morning, clear at daylight, now promises the speedy arrival of the expected easterly storm. This adds another element to the perplexing problem and promises to render futile any attempt to take relief to the unfortunates on the Cepheus by the water route.

The fleet here this morning has among the liners the La Champagne, Alaska, Aller, Belegland and the Diadem. It is hoped to find all well on the first three and to send them up at least this evening. The freighter Amalfi from Hamburg will be detained several days for observation, as will the Italian Plate from Naples, with emigrants aboard, one of this morning's newcomers. Dr. Walser, who could not get to lower quarantine yesterday, has gone down this morning, and unless the bad weather works a change he expects to return confining Dr. Byron's 10 o'clock report "all well," of last night. A transfer steamer has been ordered down to take the passengers off the La Champagne to the city. The steamer will be detained here.

The following report of the census was wired to Dr. Jenkins at noon by Dr. Byron:

Census for the day ending 12 m. September 12th: At Swinburne Island—Sick in hospital, 14; suspects, 66; deaths, none; transferred to convalescent ward, 12; transferred to sick ward, 1; cases of gastritis, 1. This morning there were no flags up. I will report later on the condition of the ships.

Since the above one child died last night of bronchitis and just now another death is reported to me of a man. I do not think he had cholera. Both of these deaths were at Swinburne hospital.

The hours Dr. Jenkins passed on the Great South Bay between midnight and dawn were aggravating for him and exciting for the crew of the Ripple, which he used in going to and fro between the Cepheus and Babylon. The watchers on guard for the natives announced him and the authorities as murderers, cut throats, etc., and the poor beings on the besiged steamer could scarcely avoid giving vent to expressions of misery. As a result the doctor was thoroughly angered and sent reports to Governor Flower covering the urgency for greater measures to put down opposition to the relief measures. This put the wheels in motion and while the governor's legal advisors, no telephones, are arranging to remove the injunction, he called out the reserves and ten companies of national guard.

QUARANTINE, S. I., Sept. 13.—The following is a report from Dr. Voight, in charge at Fire Island, received here at 12:30 today: "The situation at noon is this: Passengers have had a good breakfast and I am just about to send their dinner. Sheriff is co-operating, in that he is preserving order, but he cannot be moved by any appeals and it has been impossible to land Mr. Wall, the hotel manager, who is on the Cepheus. If possible the passengers should be landed here today. Have just sent the Ripple to Babylon with orders to lay cable. Troops can be sent by special train and I can order the Ripple to disregard the laying of cable and bring troops over. Can you tell me anything new regarding the injunction.

(Signed.) VOIGHT.

Dr. Jenkins is advised that the troops by train are due at Babylon at 2 p. m.

PARIS, Sept. 13.—The cholera is said to be raging in the small town of Brionne, in the department of Eure, in the northwest of France.

CHOLERA ABATING.

Report From Russia Show a Great Falling Off in New Cases.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 13.—The official figures for Sunday in Russia place the total number of new cases of cholera in all Russia at 2,810 and the deaths at 1,326. Compared with the returns for Friday these figures show a decrease of 2,311 new cases and 1,181 deaths. Yesterday sixty-four new cases and twenty-seven deaths were reported in St. Petersburg, an increase of two new cases and a decrease of one death compared with Sunday. The authorities in view of the decrease of the epidemic have concluded to issue only daily bulletins hereafter.

SOLDIERS ORDERED OUT

And Held in Readiness to Go to Fire Island.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—An order reached the Sixty-ninth regiment commanding officer at 5 o'clock this morning from Adjutant General Porter directing him to hold 250 men of his command in readiness to proceed to Fire Island immediately. By 7 o'clock Colonel Cavanaugh, Lieutenant Colonel Moran, Major Gaffy and most of the officers of the regiment were assembled in the armory. Shortly after 10 o'clock the batallion left the armory and proceeded to pier 36 North river, foot of Canal street, and embarked on a steamer in waiting.

NAVAL RESERVES

Ordered to Fire Island to Aid in Looking Cholera Suspects.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Commander Jacob W. Miller, of the first batallion naval reserve, acting under orders from Governor Flower, late last night issued orders for the batallion to assemble fully equipped for service at Pier 39, North river, at 8:30 this morning. The men were all notified to supply themselves with heavy underwear and two days' rations. Including officers, the batallion is over 300 strong, and these man, armed with cutlasses, revolvers and rifles on board tugs in Great South Bay or patroling Fire Island beach, could keep off all intruders. They are all well drilled.

CHOLERA IN MINNESOTA.

Imported French Horses Bring the Disease.

NORTHFIELD, Minn., Sept. 12.—F. L. Delancey, of this state, has been taken seriously ill with what is considered Asiatic cholera. He was at the state fair in charge of a lot of imported horses from France that arrived in New York just previous to the quarantine proclamation. It is thought the infection was carried in the baggage which came over with the horses. The physicians refuse to talk of the case.

NO CHOLERA IN TOLEDO.

The Report Denied by the Local Health Officers.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 13.—The report that there are several cases of cholera in East Toledo is without foundation. Both the city and East Toledo are in a good sanitary condition and the health authorities are very active and making every effort to prevent cholera reaching this city.

Off for Fire Island.

MAINE ELECTIONS.

The Republicans Carry the State by About 10,000 Majority—A Great Loss.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—One hundred and seventeen towns give Cleaves, republican, 40,443; Johnson, democrat, 34,135; Hussey, prohibition, 945; scattering, which includes labor and some of the prohibition votes, 928. In 1890, the same towns gave Burleigh, republican, 47,982; Thompson, democrat, 25,639; Clarke, prohibition, 1,540; scattering, 773. Republican plurality, 1,738, against 2,279 in 1890. If the votes to hear from come in at the same ratio of gain the total vote will be about: Republican, 68,500; democrat, 58,500, or 10,000 republican plurality. We can only guess at the prohibition and labor votes, as many towns have not been giving them, but call them prohibition, 2,500; labor, 1,500, to make the round number. This is the lightest vote in the presidential year since 1872. In 1888 the governor's vote stood: Republican, 70,801; democrat, 61,748; prohibition, 3,019; labor, 1,626; scattering, 39; total, 141,384. The first district, with thirteen towns to hear from, gives Reed 13,827, Ingraham 12,232; Reeds majority 1,545. The remaining towns will probably increase it to 2,000 more. All the republican county ticket in Cumberland county, save the sheriff, is elected. The latter is in doubt but claimed by the democrats with chances in their favor.

A RUN ON THE BANK.

Over 2,000 Depositors in Line Waiting Their Turn at the Window.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The run on the Bierbeck bank continues. Yesterday the bank sold half a million pounds worth of government consols at 95¾, a transaction which had a depressing effect upon government securities generally. Some of the depositors took lodging near the bank for the night and others passed the night in the street. About 2,000 are now in waiting for a chance to get at the cashier's windows, and money is being paid out with the greatest rapidity possible. An extra force of police and detectives is on hand to protect the people, as well as the bank, against thieves. It is stated that half a million pounds in gold were brought to the bank last night, and that a million and a half more pounds are within ready reach should the panic continue. Letters are received at the bank this morning from scores of customers expressing confidence in the institution and containing remittances. Twenty-five thousand pounds were deposited yesterday.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 13.—The Licensed Saloonkeepers' League of Indiana began a two days' session here yesterday. It is the first annual convention. All of the 230 delegates, except possibly half a dozen, reported, and there are also several hundred friendly saloonkeepers.

Forty-nine unions responded representing 2,300 membership. William Beatty, of Indianapolis, presided, with James H. Moore, secretary. President Beatty announced that the special object of the convention was the adoption of a constitution and such other action as will elevate the business and weed out disreputable characters.

Wilson, of Indianapolis, secretary. Various committees were appointed, followed by adjournment for the day. The convention was addressed by President John Kemmeren, of the Ohio league.

A BAD WRECK.

An Electric Motor Becomes Unmanageable and Wrecks the Trailer Filled With People.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 13.—At 8 o'clock this morning an electric motor with trailer attached was descending the steep incline on Russell avenue, near Ninth street, when the brakes on the motor failed to work on account of the wet and slippery rails, and the car descended the grade at a terrific rate of speed. The motor rounded the curve at Russell avenue and Ninth street without accident, but the trailer jumped from the rails and overturned in the gutter. The cars were filled with passengers and the scene was wildly exciting. Beneath the overturned trailer was a crushed and bleeding mass of humanity, while on each side of the car were lying persons who had either jumped or been thrown from the car as it tipped over. Dozens of persons rushed to the rescue of the passengers, and lifting the car, found that the wreck was a sad one. Two persons were killed and a dozen badly wounded. The names of the killed and injured, so far as can be learned at present, are: Killed, Mrs. Barbara Schenning, 2359 Indiana avenue, and an unknown man. Injured: Henry Blaine, 2,115 State street, leg broken; H. C. Kronnicker, Victor street, leg broken; J. L. Densman, 2,615 Indiana avenue, legs broken; Mrs. A. M. Jones, 2,015 Pennsylvania street, arm broken and internal injuries; Charles Bosler, 3,119 Grand avenue, badly bruised in chest and cut on head; Peter Hoffman, 4,215 Oregon avenue, internal injuries; Rudolph Hartman, Victor street, badly injured about body. The dead were removed to the hospitals, where they are being cared for.

The committee has gone over the ground pretty well, he continued, and everything is in shape for the conference. The conference last Friday was secret until it presented today's meeting will also be held behind closed doors, although Mr. Arthur voluntarily said to a United Press reporter this morning that he would certainly not object to reporters being admitted.

A COUNTER CASE.

The Canadian Minister Preparing a Paper on the Behring Sea Controversy.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The minister of marine, Mr. Tupper, is now engaged in preparing material for a counter case to the United States case in connection with the Behring Sea arbitration. The answer from the United States will close the documentary controversy. The original case of the United States contains a minute history of the Russian ownership of Alaska, and a recital of the Russian ukase reserving the Behring Sea waters for the use of Russian fisherman and a long argument to show that this right was acquired by the United States government in the purchase. The British case, however, will thoroughly oppose this contention.

NOT BINDING.

Attorney General Rosendale Says the Injunction is Illegal.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Attorney General Rosendale has telegraphed Governor Flower and Prof. Collin to the effect that Judge Barnard's injunction against the use of Fire Island is not binding. He quotes the case of Whiting, in which the supreme court held that the health officer of the port of New York was a state officer and holds that no injunction can be granted against such use of Fire Island by a state officer except by the general term 605 of the code of civil proceedure.

Then the men fought and Bush was stabbed by De Navarro as stated.

The Elwood Meeting Attended by Only Five Thousand People, Where 35,000 Were Expected.

ELWOOD, Ind., Sept. 13.—The republican demonstration at the formal opening of the American Tin Plate works here this afternoon was somewhat of a disappointment. All the day there has been a steady downpour of rain. There are not more than 5,000 people present, where 35,000 were expected. Governor McKinley arrived from Indianapolis at noon, but the inclemency of the weather prevented his speaking at 1 o'clock, as arranged for on the program. He was given a rousing reception upon his arrival. Two trains brought 3,000 people from Indianapolis, including an escort for Governor McKinley of fifty from the Columbia club.

MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

A Fifteen Year Old Boy Pushed Down an Air Shaft by a Playmate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—A mystery of several months standing, connected with the death of young Harry Quill, of 35 Washington street, was cleared up yesterday by the confession of George McKenzie, one of Quill's former playmates. Quill, who was fifteen years old, disappeared on the night of February 19. There was no explanation of his disappearance until his decomposing body was found at the bottom of an air shaft between the houses Nos. 53 and 55 Washington street, two months after he had been missed. It was thought at first that he had met death by accident, but the police lately learned that McKenzie, who is eighteen years old, had indulged in some suspicious talk regarding Quill's death. They arrested him on Saturday and yesterday he confessed that he had pushed Quill down the shaft during a quarrel. After making his confession he complained to the officers that he was haunted by Quill's ghost. He was anxious not to be left alone in his cell. His mind has probably been affected by worry over his crime.

A HALF-WITTED FIEND.

Confesses to More Than a Score of Attempted Train Wreckings.

KOKOMO, Ind., Sept. 13.—Theodore Morgan, the half-witted boy arrested last week for barn burning, made an astonishing confession today to Sheriff Simmons, which clears up the mystery of the numerous barn burnings and attempts at train wrecking near this city recently. Morgan admits to applying the torch to the four barns and straw stacks burned. He also confesses the authorship of all the train wrecking of recent years, besides more than a score of unsuccessful attempts to destroy trains. He lives near the scene of the wrecks, a mile north of town, beside the Lake Erie and Western track, and would get up in the night, unknown to his parents, and chain ties and logs across the rails, after which he would return to bed. When a small boy Morgan met with an accident that affected his brain.

ABOUT REMAUIN.

The Kind of Material Required for Our Little Army.

"The service has greatly changed for the better within the last few years," said Lieutenant Hall, who is in charge of the army recruiting office in this city, to a SENTINEL reporter, "and we are correspondingly exacting in the character of the applicant in the meantime. He is uniformed and sent to a central depot for recruits. Thenceforward his fate is in his own hands. No militiaman stands in the way of his future achievement of eminence."

"By recent legislation a private becomes entitled to examination for promotion to the rank of a commissioned officer at the close of his third year of service, and if at the time of enlistment his preliminary education is defective he finds at every Post possible for his assignment schools designed to make up any educational deficiency.

"And so you see we have no an excuse du corps heretofore unknown in the service; officers look upon the rank and file as their prospective future associates and they treat them accordingly, cultivating relations of good feeling and friendship while, of course, maintaining necessary discipline.

"Under such a system men of the best type are encouraged to adopt the profession of a soldier. The highest prospective rank is open to every recruit, with no restriction other than may arise from his own facilities personal and acquired.

"And then you know our canteen system has worked wonders of reformation in the army. Drunkenness and desertion has wonderfully decreased since its introduction and the extirpation of the sutler and post trader has been attended by good results. We are now able to control the amount of drinking and do so at a limit which meets the cheerful approval of the men.

"All articles dispensed are bought in large quantities and sold only at a margin which insures running expenses. Each days expenditures and sales are posted and every two months the profits are divided among the companies' tributary to the canteen.

"And then our military jurisprudence has been greatly modified and improved. A soldier is no longer at the mercy of a garrison court martial for a trivial offense. The second in command now tries him with a schedule of penalties not to be exceeded for any given offense and the right of appeal absolute.

"Altogether the young man eligible for admission to the army under our present rigid regulations is on the high road to a brilliant career if he has the meat in him of which success is made, and I have no hesitation in recommending this opening to a career of eminence to the best class of young men who present themselves as candidates for enlistment."

At last night's session a resolution was adopted unanimously declaring the admission of Chinese a menace and an undeniable danger to the moral and material interests of Canada and should be totally prohibited, and that as the presence of those now in Canada entails extra and special expense on the whole people of such provinces as they sojourn in large numbers, a special annual poll tax of $100 should be imposed on each Chinaman after a given date. The Japanese were included in the above, which was carried with much enthusiasm.

Frank Arnold was the name of the boy killed at Crestline by the Pittsburg train Sunday. Both arms were taken off and his head injured. His brother, Park Arnold, is a brakeman on the Fort Wayne road. He lived at Crestline.

The ladies of the "West" section of Plymouth Congregational church will give a social and supper at the church parlors tomorrow (Wednesday) evening. The corner stone of the new church will be laid tomorrow afternoon.

J. H. Hartman, the ex-East Washington street grocer, will move into his house on East Wayne street, now occupied by C. M. Compart. The latter has rented Rev. Lauer's property, on Division street, and will move therein this week.

John Stadtler, who conducted a saloon on the corner of Calhoun and Washington streets, and whom Schmitz block now stands, a few years ago, was badly injured at Muncie last Saturday by a premature explosion of a blast in an oil well. One of his legs was broken in several places.

Rufus L. Stevens, of 122 Holman street, a man about sixty-five years of age, while standing on a chair this morning at his residence, fell and broke his right wrist. Dr. J. W. McCausland dressed the injury. Mr. Stevens is an upholsterer in the employ of the Pennsylvania company.

William O'Connors, of 251 South Webster street, had one of his legs badly bruised this morning by being caught between a locomotive drive wheel and the wheel press. Dr. C. B. Stemen attended the injured man, whose wounds are not dangerous. Mr. O'Connors works in the Pittsburg machine shop.

HARLAND LOWE.

A Former Inmate of the Feeble Minded School Killes Man in Kansas.

About four months ago Harland Lowe, who had been an inmate of the feeble minded institution at this place for about two years, left for his home at Rushville. After remaining with his parents a few weeks he concluded to go to the far west and become a cow boy. He obtained a position on a big ranch near Utica, Nebraska, and for a time seemed to get along nicely. But the farm was too quiet for him and he concluded to go to Topeka and see the sights. While on the train he stepped on the platform of the smoker to try a new revolver and began shooting at telegraph poles as the train sped along. The trainmen and passengers attempted to restrain him, but could not do so, and then A. W. Harris, another cowboy, tried his hand. Harris ran into the car with Lowe in pursuit, flourishing his revolver, and taking deliberate aim, shot Harris through the body, from the effects of which he died two hours afterward. The murderer then walked to the platform, pulled the bell rope and jumped off as the train slowed up. Lowe managed to get to Topeka and was there arrested.

Superintendent Blake received a letter yesterday morning from an attorney at Kansas City, Kan., telling about the murder and asking for information concerning the mental condition of Lowe.

Lowe is a victim of epileptic fits and was considered a very dangerous person while at the institution here.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Fort Wayne Capitalists Embark in Land Speculation.

P. A. Randall, R. L. Romey, Willis Rush, W. E. Mossman, James Wilding, A. B. Trentman and Louis Bobilya were at Muncie, Ind., yesterday, where they assisted in the organization of the Eaton Land and Improvement company. Forty thousand dollars has already been expended in purchasing land at Eaton, the center of the Indiana gas field, and the company proposes to establish thereon a number of glass factories and other manufactories. The company is officered as follows: President—P. A. Randall.

Vice President—W. E. Mossman.

Secretary—C. K. Ketts.

Treasury—R. L. Romey.

All the officers are Fort Wayne gentlemen, excepting Mr. Ketts, who resides in Muncie.

WILL NOT RESIGN.

Foreign Holders of Pennsylvania Stock Stick to President Roberts.

The report that George B. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania lines, was to resign, has created a sensation, and one of the leading financial papers of London has this to say of the matter: "Foreign holders of Pennsylvania stock had a conference at which they set forth very earnestly their desire that there should be no change in the chief officers of the Pennsylvania lines." Vice President Cassatt Thompson, who has been prominently mentioned as his successor to the presidency, is declared by this London authority to be opposed to any change whatever. He has no personal ambition in the matter of the character which has been credited to him, has frowned upon suggestions of such a character, and is outspoken in his desire that Mr. Roberts be continued as president.

DELMAR AS LORDS.

An Indiana Salesman Sells "South American Lemonade."

William Sea, of Somerset, Wabash county, proprietor of a government saloon, which the people of the village have been trying to suppress, Sunday prepared a beverage which he called South American lemonade, but which was acid-diluted water heavily spiked, and sold it to numerous customers. A number of them became very drunk, guilted Sea's place, smashed in the doors and windows with stones. Sea fled to his home, where, after brutally whipping his wife, he left for parts unknown. The drunken hoodlums inspired a reign of terror for twelve hours, and the authorities are preparing to prosecute a dozen or more of them.

A WALL FROM BLOOMINGDALE.

The Garbage Gatherer Has Not Yet Visited Some Parts of the Suburb.

ENTOR SENTINEL:

You would confer a favor upon this part of the city by calling the attention of the city government, or health officers, to the fact that the garbage has not been collected, at least in part of this district, since the contract has been let under the new system. Receptacles are running over and creating a stench that is not pleasant to the nostrils, neither is it a preventive to cholera. Surely our officers ought to see to it that garbage is removed promptly, and if the contractor has not a sufficient force, require him to increase it.

When the Trap is Sprung
Upon us, we are thrown into a state of excitement by the fact that it is a case for us to act, and that we ought to act. We endeavor to do the most prompt manner, but the trouble is that we have to wait for the case to come to us, and then we have to act. We are thrown into a state of excitement by the fact that we have to act. We are thrown into a state of excitement by the fact that we have to act. Strictly Pure White Lead is the Best Paint.

Care is necessary though, to obtain strictly pure, as the market is flooded with so-called Pure White Leads that in reality contain but very little white lead.

The following analyses of two of these misleading brands show the exact proportion of genuine white lead they contain. The analyses describe the labels and brands on the packages and give the contents as follows:

"English. The Royal Manufacturing Co. Ground fine in linseed oil. Any person or persons found imitating this brand or label will be subject to a fine of $50 for each offence. White Lead."

Materials	Proportions	Analyzed by
Barytes	39.31 per cent.	Ledoux & Co.,
Oxide of Zinc	58.11 per cent.	New York.
White Lead	2.58 per cent.

"Masury's Railroad White Lead." White label, marked "Railroad White Lead, 25; purer, John W. Masury & Son, New York and Chicago, warranted superior."

Materials	Proportions	Analyzed by
Oxide of Zinc	55.70 per cent.	Ledoux & Co.,
Barytes	43.39 per cent.	New York.

We have a book which gives the analyses of eighty different misleading brands. If you are going to paint it will pay you to send for it.

It will only cost a postal card to get it, it may save you many a dollar.

J. E. Rose, ticket agent for the Pittsburg at this place, and Mrs. Ross, left for Philadelphia last night to attend the ticket agents convention at that place. They left on the second section of No. 2, a special train for the agents and their families all along the route.

Henry Corson, one of the machinists in the Pittsburg shops, tells a good joke on himself. He says that Sunday night while coming home from seeing his girl, he lost his way and wandered into the old canal feeder, where he got into mud up to his knees and spoiled his best suit of clothes.

A. H. Polhamus, road foreman of engineers for the Pittsburg, who is in Northern Michigan on account of his health, writes that he is enjoying his trip very much and that his condition is greatly improved. He expects to be home in a week. His son, Albert, who was spending a few days with him, returned home last night.

Frank Phlegar, for some years past a passenger conductor on the Peoria and Eastern road, was dismissed from the company's service on Saturday. The fact that Mr. Phlegar was one of the grievance committee which has so frequently visited General Manager Barnard of late causes more comment than would ordinarily under ordinary circumstances, and to say that the brotherhood is a good deal exercised over the dismissal is no exaggeration. The reason given for his discharge was that his services were unsatisfactory.

While bringing his train down from Chicago Sunday Conductor Charles Ziegler, of the Nickel Plate, had a little experience with tramps that he will not care to repeat very soon. At a station a few miles east of Stony Island four burly tramps boarded the train, going into a box car. Conductor Ziegler went to the car and told the men that they must get off at the next station, as he was not allowed to carry anybody free. Immediately four revolvers were pointed at Mr. Ziegler's head while the spokesman of the party said that they intended to ride to Fort Wayne and any interference on the part of the trainmen would result disastrously to the latter. The quartet of bums then searched the conductor, and finding no revolver, allowed him to go about his business. The party, however, changed their mind about the length of time they would remain on the train, for they got off at the first station.

ADVANCING INTO DAHOMY.

The French Troops Meet With Little Resistance.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—From dispatches received here it is learned that the French forces in Dahomy are advancing into the interior of the country and are meeting with little opposition to their onward march. A revolution has broken out at Abomey, the capital of Dahomy, and King Behanzine, the native potentate, has returned from the field in order to restore order among his disturbed subjects and to organize a plan of defense against the invading French forces. King Behanzine's uncle and eldest brother, who were the promoters of the revolt, fled with their chief supporters upon the king's approach to the capital.

THE AXLE BROKE

And Three Passenger Coaches are Derailed.

CARLISLE, Pa., Sept. 13.—A serious railroad accident occurred on the Cumberland Valley road this morning at Middlesex station, three miles east of this city, about 7 o'clock. Passenger No. 12, going east, which leaves this city at 7:20, was running rapidly and when in the vicinity of the station an axle on the tender of the engine broke. The entire train of three coaches was wrecked. The cars were thrown up-side down into an adjoining field. There were twenty-five passengers, but none were killed.

TRIBUTE.

While it is over thirty years ago since Allcock's Porous Plasters were first introduced to the medical profession and public, the marked success and unprecedented popularity which they have met with not only continues, but steadily increases. No other plasters have been produced which gain so many testimonials of high value as those constantly accruing in favor of Allcock's Porous Plasters, and the only motive for these exceptional tributes lies in the fact of their being a medicinal and pharmaceutical combination of superior value. Additional proof of the true value of Allcock's Porous Plasters lies in the fact, that they are being largely imitated by unscrupulous persons, who seek to deceive the public by offering plasters which they claim to be the same, "or just as good," "better," "their porous plaster," etc., while it is in general appearance only that their counterfeit Allcock's. Each one of the so-called porous plasters are imitations of Allcock's Porous Plasters.

Avoid dealers who attempt to palm off inferior and worthless plasters that are purchased by them at low rates for the purpose of substitution.

THIS INFANT HAD NERVE.

A Two-Year-Old Tiot Floated in a Cistern and Helped Rescue Himself.

Little Charles Leo Burdon, the twenty-five-month-old grandson of Leo Burdon, is being petted and caressed by the citizens of Elmwood, both as a musical prodigy and more particularly in recognition of his wonderful presence of mind and courage in the presence of death by drowning which he recently displayed under the most trying circumstances even to one of maturer years.

Charley was visiting Grandpa Burdon on Greenwich street last summer, says the Providence Journal, and clad in an ulster and tight-fitting bonnet was playing in the yard, accompanied by his grandmother. There is a cistern in the yard, ten feet in depth, about eight feet in circumference, and containing seven feet of water. It is supplied with an iron cover, and precautions had been taken to have it securely fastened. Charley decided to make an investigation. His grandmother left him for an instant, and the child in some unexplainable manner either succeeded in tilting the cover by partly raising it or else as he stepped on the edge it was raised sufficiently to make an opening through which the adventurous infant was precipitated

The grandmother returned to the spot where she had left him, but he had disappeared. She called out to him, but no response was heard. She made a circuit of the premises, but no trace of the boy was discovered. Happily she thought of the cistern, and seeing that the cover was bottom side up, she removed it from the opening and was horrified to discover Charlie floating on the surface of the water. He had probably fallen into the cistern feet foremost, and his clothing had buoyed him up to that he was able to float temporarily.

The frantic grandparent called to him, and he responded bravely, and by besought him to raise his head a little and then called out to the audience to come to the rescue. Peter hastened to the spot, and in his perplexity could not devise an immediate plan of action. Mrs. Burdon realized the dire peril of the situation, and seeing a small pitchfork near by she seized it, and with Peter's assistance made a desperate effort to fasten it into the infant's clothes. The cistern was deep, and the attempt was difficult that the exact location of the child could be discerned. All the while the grandmother was urging Charley to keep up courage and uttering words of loving solicitude, and the little fellow responded with cheering assurances.

Finally the handle of the pitchfork was thrust within reaching distance and Charley was bidden to cling fast to it. He is a vigorous, well-developed boy, and he quickly clasped his hands around the staff and clung to it with doggedo determination.

Slowly and steadily the weight was lifted to the surface of the cistern, and the wet and dripping figure was clasped in the arms of his deliverers. Charley was very self-possessed, and was quickly taken into the house and supplied with an outfit of dry clothing and a hot drink was administered to him. The liquid was to be pretty wet but that he was a smart boy because he swimmed in the water.

AN HONEST DELEGATE.

He Refused With Scorn the Paltry Bribe That Was Tendered Him.

In New Orleans a dusky aga, an Esmoralda delegate—a tall, long-bearded, venerable man, wearing spectacles and an air of respectability, such as to address no one but the man brush—walked up to the desk of the chairman of a state convention and erected a tremendous sensation. The object of the gubernatorial nomination was hot and close and as both the aspirants were wealthy, boodle was in the air, and every where.

"Sah," said the Esmoralda delegate, with stern solemnity, slapping fifteen twenty-dollar pieces down on the table, "I want you to vote for me for dis yar suin. Take 'em."

"Sah," said the convention involuntarily thrust his hands in his pockets and then all of it rose as one man and yelled like beasts of prey about to be fed, and the honest old man was tossed into the cages by their keepers.

"Nawsh! Nawsh! Who was it? Liar! Scoush! Traitor! Fire him out! He's an enemy to the whole convention!"

"What do you mean sir?" gasped the chairman, absent-mindedly pocketing the coin. "Do you stand there with that unconvention'l pan-boodle in your hand? Gen'l Smith gave you this money to vote for him?"

"No i don't," answered the purist from Esmoralda, calmly and unabashed at the sea of furious faces.

"Did any one known to you to be General Smith's agent or friend give it to you?"

"Well, that's neither here nor there, and I don't allow it's none of your business, nohow. I've given you the money, hain't I? That's square, ain't it?"

"But why do you come here with this money and make such a statement to the whole convention?"

"Because I'm an honest man, sir!" exclaimed the upright old pioneer, his eyes blazing and his face illumined by a glow of high satisfaction at having the turbulent mob into silence. "I can do better on the other side! They've bid $500!"

Cheers after cheer went up and shook the hall. Men crowded around the old man, wrung his hand and slapped him on the back.

"Thank God," said the chairman, in a voice choked with emotion. "Your manhood still permeates the people in the battle-born state. And yet they call this a rotten borough!"

Hicks says of the coming winter and spring: "Being firm in such convictions, we do not hesitate to record our belief that the coming winter will prove much more severe than last, and that the spring of 1893, especially the months of March and April, will be exceptionally stormy, wet and cold. The equinox of Mars is in March just one month earlier than it was last spring—the equinox of Venus falls in the middle of April, instead of the middle of May, as was the case last spring. The facts indicate that the battle of cold, snow and rain will fall in the months of March, April and the early part of May, instead of lasting through May and into June, as we had it this season."

The Maumee Valley Monumental association, at a regular meeting held in Toledo the 25th of last month adopted the following resolution: Resolved, That this association takes a deep interest in procuring views of the battlefields and other points of interest in the Maumee valley, and that a committee of five from Toledo, with power to add citizens from neighboring localities, be appointed to raise funds for procuring the same. The objects of this movement are self evident; to aid in preserving the glories of a region rich in historical incidents and lore. It is intended to have photographic views taken about 5x8 inches in size, which will be enlarged to 12x15 inches, and they will then be accepted by the State Historical society, which will have them suitably mounted on revolving posts and placed in the Ohio building at the World's Columbian exposition.

The Jenney Electric Motor company, after giving the tricycle of its invention a test, has shipped it to the Columbian Tricycle company, Chicago. It is simply an open phaeton body of ordinary size resting on a pair of wheels thirty inches in diameter, with a guide wheel in front. Under the seat is a six-cell battery, with a one-horse power electric motor. It will carry three persons, two on the phaeton seat. On the dickey seat in the rear sits the motorman, his seat being somewhat higher than the phaeton seat. In front of him is a small crank, similar to those in use on street cars, which operates the motor, and another in connection with it which guides the tricycle. The phaeton, with the power plant, weighs 425 pounds, is very handsomely finished, with a wide seat and patent leather dasher in front, and resembles an open phaeton body resting on three small wheels. All the electric gearing is hidden under the seat. The tricycle moves off promptly, and is guaranteed to carry three persons nine miles an hour, the third person being the man in charge of the motive power. As geared to run at the Columbian exposition it will move but three miles an hour.

On Thursday evening of this week in the parlors of the city department of Y. M. C. A., a meeting will be held to organize the Chautauqua Reading Course for the winter. The readings begin October 1, and all who are interested are urged to attend.

The opportunities afforded by this systematic, but inexpensive system of education, are being improved by increasing members each year. There is nothing denominational about it and its character is extremely helpful.

This meeting is to be held, not only to organize the course, but to give information to any who are desirous of knowing about the work. If unable to attend, those desiring enrollment should address a card to Miss Lillie Beaber, secretary, city. 13-2t.
